

Where is Bellingham?

The City of Bellingham is located in Washington State's northwest corner – just 90 miles north of Seattle and 55 miles south of Vancouver, British Columbia. As Whatcom County's largest city and county seat, Bellingham provides an urban vibe in an otherwise predominantly rural environment.

Mount Baker

This 10,781 foot slumbering volcano dominates the southeastern horizon. A record holder for most snowfall and longest ski season, Mt. Baker transforms seamlessly with the seasons to offer year around, world-class recreation options.

Salish Sea

Whatcom County's western border encompasses over 130 miles of meandering marine shoreline. Part of the Salish Sea, an intricate network of coastal waterways shared by the United States and Canada, this is one of the world's largest and most biologically rich inland seas.

Canadian Border

Whatcom County shares an international border with British Columbia, Canada. Travelers may access border crossings at Blaine (2), Lynden, Point Roberts and Sumas. Visit bellingham.org/transportation for restrictions and current wait times.
